COME AGAIN.

That's What Hibernians Say to National President J. J. Regan.

Addresses Large and Pleased Audience at Macauley's Theater.

Vicar General Cronin Has Kind Words For the Ancient Order.

HONORED GUEST WITH BAND.

James J. Regan, National President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, has come and gone, and expression of every one who heard him is "Come again." President Regan arrived here Saturday morning, when he was met by Executive Committee, composed of Messrs. Thomas Walsh, Con J. John G. Hession, John J. Barry, D. J. Coleman, and escorted to Seelbach, where during the day officers and many members of four divisions and prominent men dined upon him. After the distinguished visitor was for an automobile ride and many points of interest, which impressed him most favorably.

Sunday night a large intelligent audience assembled at Macauley's to greet President Regan, and well were they repaid for time thus spent. In the box Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G. Patrick Walsh, A. J. Brady, V. Gausepohl, Lawrence Ford, Brady and others. Attorney Walsh presided and welcomed present on behalf of the Ancient Order, his introduction of President Regan putting every one in the humor for the treat that followed.

President Regan was welcomed, and in acknowledging complimented Louisville and Kentucky for its hospitality and ability with which the Ancient Order has been represented at national conventions. After pointing out the responsibilities that upon Irish-American citizens speaker gave a brief history of the order, its aims and purposes and great work it has done.

"The Ancient Order of Hibernians was organized between 300 and 350 years ago," said the speaker, "on the same principles upon which working today—equality and brotherhood, faith and fatherland, great organization has not done one jot nor tittle from theious or patriotic principles for which it was started originally. The order was organized first in America seventy-five years ago, and I am asking every county delegation to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee may some time between now and December 31, by initiating a large class of new members to commemorate the founding of the order in America.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians does not come before the public and ask for consideration on any promise of what we may do in the future. We let the public judge of the future by the history of the organization in the past. Representing as it does the Irish race, the order always has stood for and encouraged the noblest ideals of that race.

"First and foremost it stands for the spread of Catholicism among the people. It always has encouraged education among our people, and I say it with pardonable pride that no people today make any greater sacrifice to raise and educate their children properly than the Irish fathers and Irish mothers. The organization has endeavored always to hold Irish womanhood to the place of esteem and honor to which it is entitled. The Ancient Order of Hibernians has stood for and encouraged the highest principle of charities among its own members, and the national organization has been the foremost in times of public distress to render aid both at home and abroad."

Iam Lawler. All were called upon and congratulated President Regan and County President Coleman upon the success achieved and pledging themselves to carry out the recommendations of the National Board.

TORIES

Are in Bad Mood Over Ulster's Fight On Autonomy For Ireland.

Prophets See a Parliament and Home Rule Prosper On Emerald Isle.

Secretary Birrell Promises Introduction of Measure Early in March.

D BOGIES WILL CUT NO ICE

The latest Irish political news is the anti-home rule campaign, started in Belfast a few weeks ago, hailed with much delight by the conservative press, when Sir Edward Carson laid the verbal foundation of a separate home rule for Ulster, is not giving the Tory party much pleasure. In fact they are beginning to feel rather uneasy at the tendencies of this child of their brain. In the first place they have lost quite a few supporters in parts of Ulster, who drew the line at such treacherous utterances as this, "that the King's army and navy would attack Belfast at their will." They are greatly worried at the class of men in Ulster who so far are the only ones who have received their programme with enthusiasm.

Sir Edward Carson and his fellow-saboteurs of the proposed new government talk of passive resistance by the Ulster people and their determination to refuse to pay taxes levied by the Irish Parliament. The Belfast workingmen are asking how they can assist the movement. They don't pay income tax, or land tax, or house duty, but they are paying indirect taxes on tobacco and whisky, and they may give up the use of these luxuries, though it is somewhat unlikely. If they do it will not be the Government only that is the loser, for Belfast boasts of some of the largest distilleries and tobacco factories in the country. Be that as it may, it is certain that the workingmen of Belfast realize that the only way they can assist the landlords and house owners, who sympathize with the proposed new government, to fight the good fight will be to make it impossible for them to pay income tax. If they have no incomes, how can the Government collect the tax? So there is already a movement afoot to refuse to pay rent. No rent for the landlords will mean a rise of from $1 to $2 a week in wages to the Belfast workingman, and he will not be evicted, for his landlord refusing to recognize the Government at Dublin will be unable to invoke the help of the law. No wonder anti-home rule is popular among the workers at Belfast.

In a very few weeks nobody will hear any more about a separate government for Ulster. If a home rule bill is passed the members elected to represent Ulster at Dublin will take their seats in the local Parliament, where there will be Progressives and Tories, as in every other modern political assembly. These will shade off into many kinds of orange and green, but the only fights Ireland will see will be with words on the floor of her local Parliament, and before ten years have passed all England will be wondering what objections there could ever be to Irish home rule.

T. P. O'Connor cables that Secretary Birrell has jumped to the front with some striking announcements with regard to the home rule bill. For the first time the general public knows there will be two chambers, and I believe most of the Irish members will assent to the forming of a safeguard against hasty, rash legislation. Birrell speaks with great hopefulness of the prospects of the measure and mentions next March as the date of the introduction of the bill—that is to say, the first movement after the new session of Parliament has settled down to business.

"I have just returned from an extensive home rule tour in England. Everywhere the meetings were crowded. The Liberals are more united now than they were in Gladstone's day. The Tories are working like demons, sending Ulster missionaries all over their constituencies and drawing the usual rawbones pictures of the terrors to civil and religious liberty in Ireland under home rule. The Liberals reply with equal vigor. Wallace Carter, who conducted a splendid free trade campaign, is now Secretary of the Home Rule Council and is covering all England with a network of meetings. My strong impression is that the old bogies of separation and religious persecution will no longer cut any ice and that England is ready to accept home rule than at any period since the opening of the battle."

ELIZABETHTOWN.

The Forty Hours' devotions at St. James church at Elizabethtown came to a solemn close Tuesday, the attendance at all the services being larger than ever before. Father Daly, the pastor, was assisted by Rev. Charles P. Raffo, of this city and Rev. Thomas J. Hayes, of Bowling Green, who preached subsequent sermons.

POLITICS.

Judge O'Rear Still Maintaining His Dodging Tactics and Evasion.

Sidesteps Question About His Part in the Galt House Conference.

Local Republicans Are Fighting Each Other Daily in the Courts.

GOV. HARMON TO SPEAK TONIGHT

The news of his artful dodging, which no doubt could be used as an amusing film in his moving picture show and entitled "The Artful Dodger."

By the way, the Evening Post has been putting up a pitiful plea for campaign funds for O'Rear on the ground that the Republican campaign treasury is empty, and right on the heels of their plea comes the announcement that they are running three special trains with moving pictures through the Eleventh district, which will cost no less than $10,000. There's a nigger in the woodpile somewhere.

The Louisville Republicans are hopelessly split. They first refused to nominate a ticket for the General Council, and when a crowd of the dark lantern workers of the party here put up a ticket then the few men who control the Republican County Committee got together and named a full ticket to head off the Junior Order boys. Many of those thus named never were consulted, and with the exception probably of J. Duff Reed and one or two others the Democrats will have no opposition.

After the court decided against the Junior Order ticket running under the log cabin emblem these worthies withdrew, not caring to show their real strength under any other device, where they could not have the negro vote to boost their game. As a forecast of the vote in the coming State race it is only necessary to review the vote of Louisville and Jefferson county, which four years ago gave Wilson 9,000 majority over Hager, and this year it is even conceded by the Republicans to give McCreary and the Democratic ticket a majority of less than 3,000.

Chairman Frank McGrath, of the Local Democratic Committee, and his associates have been making a big preparation for the speaking of Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, who will address the voters of this district at the Seelbach Roof Garden this evening, when a large crowd is expected to hear him discuss the issues of the day.

WOMEN ARE AWAKE.

The Ladies' Catholic Order of Foresters at their national convention in Chicago paid the sum of $20,000 to the Extension Society, to be used in the building of Catholic Chapels in the poor sections of the United States. This amount is to be raised by an annual per capita tax of ten cents for a period of three years. The proposed fund of the Foresters will be known as the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters chapel fund, and from the interest team, composed of William T. McDonagh, D. J. Reilly, W. J. Connolly, John J. Score, T. J. Langan and a choir under the direction of James Perry, organist. The following list:

Nicholas Cotter, Thomas Higgins, Baker J. Masterson, Con O'Leary, Michael Moriarty, Pat Connally, John E. McCoy, Philip Muldoon, Edward Mannion and John Coleman. After the initiation refreshments were served and vocal and instrumental numbers rendered by Baker Masterson, Dave Reilly, Thomas Martin and Sergeant "Jack" Maloney, who also danced a hornpipe soloed by Ted O'Toole. Matt Muldoon, a visitor from Division 3, entertained with a lively breakdown, which was heartily applauded. Division 3 was well represented, among whom were County President D. J. Coleman, Squire P. T. Sullivan, L. J. Mackey, Thomas Stevens, John Maloney and Matt Muldoon.

MONUMENT

Erected to the Memory of Father John B. Kelly.

The dedication of the monument in Holy Trinity cemetery in New Albany to the memory of Father John B. Kelly, former rector of Holy Trinity church, will take place Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Charles Curran, pastor of Holy Trinity church, will conduct the services and an eloquent priest from the Dominican convent in Louisville will deliver the sermon. The various societies of the church, including St. Edward's Commandery, Knights of St. John; New Albany Council, Knights of Columbus, and Unity Council, Young Men's Institute, will participate in the exercises. On the following Sunday the societies of the church will participate in the observance of All Souls' day at St. Mary's cemetery.

POLICE DOINGS.

Patrolmen Edward McGrath, Austin Nally and J. J. Killen returned to their posts this week after a vacation of ten days. Tim McCarthy and James Savage, of the Second district, and Joe Hoben and Edward Cradick, of the traffic squad, started on their vacation last Monday. Patrolman William O'Connell, who has been ill for the past two months with stomach trouble, is still confined to his home, his condition showing no material change.

Walsh's residence by the Very Rev. Monsignor Grannan, of Washington, acting as the special representative of the Pope, by direction of Apostolic Delegate Monsignor Falconio.

The decoration conferred upon Mrs. Walsh is second only to that of the Golden Rose, which is restricted to women of reigning royal families, and is rarely granted even to them.

The insignia consists of a Jerusalem cross and shield, the upright and transverse pieces of which are of equal length. In each of the four angles are smaller crosses of similar form. The whole is of gold enamelled in the finest style of Italian art and studded with brilliants. The distinction is conferred by the Pope upon Catholic women for extraordinary service to the church. Mrs. Walsh is the founder of the Henry McCadden, Jr., Fund for the education of young men for the priesthood. This fund has increased materially since its establishment, and students of all rites allowed in the Catholic church—Latin, Greeks, Armenians, Maronites, Syrians, Chaldeans and Copts, distributed in seminaries all over the world, in Europe, Asia and America—are on the roll of the fund.

MADE MERRY.

Many Applications Received by Knights of St. John.

There was merry-making and a general good time at the reunion of the Knights of St. John last Wednesday night under the auspices of St. Michael's Commandery 103 at St. Peter's Hall. Alderman Fred Leezer presided and welcomed the clergy, Col. Henry Felhoester, Col. Joe Brein and staff and the visitors. The hall was well filled and each speaker was frequently applauded.

The first introduced was Rev. Father Jerome Preissler, Chaplain of Commandery 103, who said the Knights of St. John bring blessings to man and the community where they are organized. He also told of the assistance they render the church and the help they render one another.

Father Conrad delivered a short address in German, and was followed by Attorney Joseph Conkling, who spoke at length on the benefits of and necessity for carrying life insurance, which protects the wife and children when the husband and father are claimed by death.

L. T. Conner, of 511 North Twenty-seventh street, who has been critically ill for the past eight weeks, continues very low, and grave hopes are entertained for his recovery.

THEY WED HERE.

James Sullivan and Miss Fannie M. English, well known residents of Danville, came to Louisville last Wednesday and were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. Father Brady at St. Cecilia's church.

MOST EFFECTIVE WORK.

Edward J. McDermott has done some of the most effective work of the campaign. He has been welcomed everywhere by great audiences. His speeches have appealed to the intelligence of his hearers. Without passion or partianship he has made arguments for Democratic success that are unanswerable. He has stripped the Republican platform of its pretenses and the Republican party of its mask of sincerity, until both stand posed to public condemnation.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The county degree team initiated a large class for Division 7 at Syracuse last week.

Divisions 3 and 4 are certainly doing diamond jubilee year work. Divisions 1 and 2 will soon be heard from.

The County Board will now get busy and arrange for a diamond jubilee initiation before the close of the year.

The Milwaukee division, the largest in the country, expects a class of over 100 at the initiation to be held next month.

Patrick J. Haltigan witnessed the initiation of a large class and addressed the division at Olean, N. Y., last Sunday.

With seven members initiated last week the division at Lackawanna, N. Y., becomes one of the strongest in Erie county.

Division 2 meets Wednesday night at Sixth and Walnut, and a cordial invitation is given all members of the order to be present.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary are sending congratulations to Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, into whose home has come a pretty baby boy.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meets Wednesday night and a full attendance is looked for. This organization is making great progress.

It was gratifying to see so many clergymen present at the Regan meeting Sunday night. All regretted the inability of the Bishop to be there.

Frank McGrath was among the many who met President Regan and heard his address. The Democratic Chairman declared it was "one of the best ever."

There is a popularity contest on for the St. Paul festival, and divisions and auxiliaries are giving card parties and entertainments for their respective candidates.

St. Paul Hibernians will conduct a week's festival during the week beginning November 6. Two big nights will be those designated as German and municipal.

Wisconsin will be able to report a decided increase of the order at the close of the year. Large initiations were held last month at Janesville and Madison.

Division 2 of Syracuse observed its twenty-third anniversary Wednesday night. There was a large attendance, with State and County officers present as honor guests.

The Executive Committee of the County Board appreciates the kindness of Edward J. O'Brien and Dr. Charles A. Edelen, who furnished automobiles for last Sunday's ride.

National Secretary Regan has kind words only for the Hibernians of the Southern States. He was impressed with the standing and personnel of the membership, especially here in Louisville.

In Buffalo last Monday the various divisions had a joint initiation, the County degree team conferring the honors of the order. The County Board had as guests for the occasion National Secretary McGuinness, State President Brown and National Editor Haltigan.

National Secretary Regan has kind words only for the Hibernians of the Southern States. He was impressed with the standing and personnel of the membership, especially here in Louisville.

Many people in this city will be interested in the following, which appeared in the papers at Cairo, Ill.: "A pretty wedding was the one yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church in which Miss Alice Murphy and William H. O'Brien were united in marriage at high mass by Rev. James J. Gillen, pastor of the church. Mrs. O'Brien is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Murphy, of 512 Twenty-first street, who recently removed here from Louisville, Mr. Murphy being Superintendent of the handi factory. The bride wore an exquisite gown of cream messaline with Irish point yoke and pearl ornaments, carrying a bouquet of bride roses. She wore a tulle veil, which was caught with orange blossoms." The father of the bride will be remembered here as County President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Louisville, while the bride was widely known and popular in Catholic society circles.

BISHOP LUDDEN BETTER.

The faithful throughout the Syracuse diocese were rejoiced to know that Bishop Ludden was better and stronger last week than at any time during his present illness. He sat up for the first time Wednesday and shows a gradual improvement in every way.

MOTION PICTURES.

With the daily changes of moving pictures the Casino and Orpheum continue to lead in public favor with this form of amusement. The films presented at these houses are the best produced, embracing almost every subject, but always of a character instructive and interesting and to which no objection can be made. The reduction of the price of admission has added to their popularity.

WALNUT THEATER.

Next week's offering at the Walnut-street Theater is cast in a lighter mould than its immediate predecessor. It is George Barr McCutcheon's fascinating story of love and war, "Beverly of Graustark." The play has been cast with extreme care and mounted with an elaborate and massive scenic production. The role of Beverly is in the hands of Irene Warfield, a Louisville girl, last season ingenue of the Edwards Davis Stock Company.

THE LAST DOLLAR.

Consulted the Best Doctors.

Brooklyn, N. Y., 264 Hamburg Ave. Sep. 7, 1910.

For seven years I had epilepsy and fits, but without result. At last I consulted the best doctors in New York, who tried every thing, but without result. At last I gave Pastor Koening's Nerve Tonic and before finishing the first bottle was well again. Since then it has increased to 5 & 6 hours. Besides I am very thankful and have confidence in the tonic.

Mrs. Adelaide Ulrich.

I was not able to sleep more than one hour in a night, for three years he troubled me with frequent pains in the sides. He used Pastor Koening's Nerve Tonic and since then my sleep increased to 5 & 6 hours. Besides I am very pleased with the effect of the remedy.

PASSIONISTS

Elect Provincial and Consuls for Three Years.

Election to various positions for a term of three years was made by the members of the Western Province of the Passionist order at the Passionist monastery on the Newburg road. The Rev. Jerome Reutermann was re-elected Provincial and the Rev. Alfred Cugney and the Rev. Isidore Dwyer, First and Second Consul respectively. All three will be stationed in Chicago. The Rev. Denis Calligee was chosen Master of Novices. The following appointments of rectors were made: To Sacred Heart Retreat, Louisville, the Rev. Clitus Brady, to succeed the Rev. Daniel McGuire; Holy Cross Monastery, Cincinnati, the Rev. Eugene Creegan; St. Paul's, Kansas, the Rev. Benedict Hanley; Normandy Monastery, St. Louis, the Rev. Lambert Kenrick; Norwood Park, Chicago, the Rev. Xavier Sutton.

The Very Rev. Father Jeremias, of Rome, General of the Passionist order, presided at the session, at which, in addition to the assigning of the priests, matters pertaining to the welfare of the order were discussed. Father Brady, who succeeds Father McGuire in Louisville, formerly was stationed here as Master of Novices. He has been a member of the faculty at the house in St. Louis. Father McGuire is awaiting a new appointment. Father Hanley and Father Sutton, who will go to St. Louis and Chicago respectively, have been at the Sacred Heart Retreat here for three years. It is the intention of Father Jeremias, in his capacity as General of the order, to visit the four Passionist community houses in Mexico before returning to Rome.

PEACEFULLY

Noted Churchman Is Summoned to Eternal Rest.

Monsignor T. J. Capel, a noted churchman and once Private Chamberlain to the Pope, is dead at Sacramento, Cal. Monsignor Capel died peacefully at the residence of Bishop Grace. He had been ill for some time, but preached in the Cathedral Sunday. He was found unconscious in bed Monday morning and did not regain consciousness.

Monsignor Capel was ordained a priest by Cardinal Wiseman, of England, in 1860. In January, 1864, he became co-founder and Vice-Principal of St. Mary's Normal College at Hammersmith. Shortly after ordination he sought a southern climate to recover his strength. When at Pau he established the English mission and was formally appointed its chaplain. During several visits to Rome he also delivered courses of English sermons in that city by the express command of the Pontiff. Monsignor Capel, while laboring at Pau in the work of diversions, was named Chamberlain to Pope Plus IX. In 1868, and after his return to England Domestic Prelate in 1873.

NEWPORT.

At last Saturday's primary in Newport, the first held under the commission plan of government in Kentucky, M. J. Costigan was one of the four named by the Democrats as Commissioner to be voted for at the November election. Not for years was there as much interest taken in a municipal election. The vote was unprecedented for a primary, and early in the day the indications were that the entire registered vote would be cast. A large number of voters who were unable to register swore in their vote under the law.

EUCHRE POSTPONED.

The euchre which was to have been given by St. Ann's Society of St. Patrick's parish on next Friday, at Mrs. Louis Kuhn's residence, has been transferred to the residence of Squire P. T. Sullivan, 525 North Twentieth street, and the date one week later, Friday, November 10. This transfer and postponement was made on account of a serious illness in the family of Mrs. Kuhn.

CUPID AT PARIS.

The marriage of Miss Julia Brophy and Dan J. Mahaney, popular and widely known residents of Paris, Bourbon county, was solemnized with a nuptial mass in the Church of the Annunciation on Wednesday morning, the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn officiating. There was a large gathering of friends and well-wishers to witness the ceremony.

BISHOP AND ALTAR BOY.

Once an altar boy was invited to call on the Bishop, who was a very kind man. The little boy felt afraid and embarrassed, not knowing how to act or what to say. Carefully, very carefully, he brushed his clothes and polished his shoes, and took good care not to soil them on the way. The Bishop received him very kindly, and noticing how clean he had kept his shoes, said to him:

"Why, my dear boy, how could you keep your shoes so clean when the roads are so muddy?"

"Oh, I was very careful to pick my way."

"But this morning your shoes were soiled when you served mass."

"Yes; but I did not know that the Bishop would be there, or I would have cleaned them before."

"And do you not know, my dear boy, that when you serve mass you are before a far greater Lord than I am—before God himself, surrounded by thousands of angels? Why did you not have your shoes in good condition?"

The little boy burst into tears, but he ever after that appeared about the altar with well-kept shoes, clean hands and face and neatly brushed hair, showing how well he had profited by the Bishop's remarks.

NEVER AGAIN!

I shall not pass this way again!
The thought is full of sorrow;
I may not do tomorrow,
If I this moment shall withhold
The help I might be giving
Some soul may die, and I shall lose
The sweetest joy of living.

Only the present hour is mine—
I may not have another
In which to speak a kindly word
Or help a fallen brother.
The path of life leads straight ahead;

I can retrace it never;

The daily record which I make
Will stand unchanged forever.

To cheer and comfort other souls
And make their pathways brighter;

To lift the load from other hearts
And make their burdens lighter.

This is the work we have to do—

It must not be neglected,

That we improve each passing hour

Is of us all expected.

I shall not pass this way again!
Oh! then with high endeavor.
May I my life and service give
To Him who reigns forever.
Then will the failings of the past
No longer bring me sadness,
And His approving smile will fill
My heart with joy and gladness.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Hall Was Crowdcd Monday to Hear Dr. Bizot.

A large and appreciative audience greeted Dr. A. R. Bizot Monday night at Mackin Council club house, when he delivered a most interesting and instructive discourse on the subject of "Preventive Medicines." From the moment of his introduction to the close he was given the closest attention, and by many the address was pronounced the best yet heard in the club house. President Robertson occupied the chair and dispatched the business with alacrity. The members were urged to bestir themselves in securing candidates for the coming initiation, and two more were added to the arrangements committee. All present were requested to attend the special meeting Wednesday night for the consideration of the night class proposition. Mackin Social Club reported that their dances were all that could be desired, and also informed the members that they might secure invitations for their friends and relatives.

He was the Irish Nationalist candidate for Derry in the last two elections, though the traditions of the Leslie family are strongly Conservative. He is an accomplished Irish scholar, speaks and writes well. With his brother he became a Catholic a few years ago.

SEWING SOCIETY MEETING.

A meeting of the members of Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital Sewing Society has been called for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the hospital. All are urged to be present, as the session will be an interesting one.

LATEST IN STYLES.

Royal purple is decidedly modish. Figured materials trim the newest coat models.

Some of the new waists have the peplum extension.

Dark blouses are trimmed with mouseline du sole.

Panel effects are still much in evidence in skirtdom.

Lace is much used as ruffles on skirts of evening frocks.

Ratin is one of the favorite cloths for skirt and coat costumes.

Many of the newest evening coats are made with a single seam.

We see fringes on skirts, tunics, sashes, collars, cuffs and hats.

Tunics are longer at the back than the front and elaborate embroidery and fringe are used to decorate them.

The new models show high waisted effects on skirts and slightly shortwaisted effects on coats and cloaks.

A few cape collars are being shown on auto coats, but these will not be in the height of their fashion until later in the season.

In street coats the regulation sleeve still prevails, but many novel effects are produced by the trimming of the cuffs, which are made to correspond with the collar.
